

Write a menu for school system. Functionality of our program will be:

- Admit students in school
- Remove students from school
- View all students of school

Furthermore, here are some instructions for this project:

- Use list to store data (student names).
- Write a program that ask the user what he/she want to do (add student, remove student, view students). Make your code functional accordingly.
- Try to ask user for what they want to do again and again, until they decide to leave.
